Little League Winds Up Season In Tight Race

The second half of the Little League season draws to a close this week, with the Braves and Red Sox in a tight race for first spot.

As of Wednesday, when the Townsman went to press, the Braves held a half game lead over the Red Sox — but the second half winner could have been decided last night when the Braves met the White Sox. A win for the Braves, winners of the first half, would mean they couldn't lose the race — but might be tied with the Red Sox if that team wins its game tonight and a makeup game Friday night. If this happens, a one-game playoff would be needed to establish the winner of the half. And if it turned out to be the Red Sox, then a playoff would again be needed between the Braves and Red Sox to establish a clear season winner.

Awaiting the outcome of the tight race is the naming of a coach for the all-star team, which plays its first game July 23 at 5:30 at the Prospect Hill field in Lawrence.

Normally the coach of the all-stars is the man whose team wins the town championship. In this case, it will be either Dr. Douglas Dunbar, manager of the Braves, or Harold Cookson, manager of the Red Sox.

Practice sessions for the all-stars will no doubt be held early next week, whether the manager has been clearly chosen by the results of games played, or whether he is named by the Little League committee.

The Selectmen have approved installation of some 29 street lights at various locations, on recommendation of Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

The new units, mostly of 1,000 lumen power, will cost the town $495. Mr. Duff said there is about $1,400 available in the account for street lights, and agreed to review several suggested locations for new lights.

Berated Residents Who Objected To Gravel Pit

An excavating contractor "blew up" at a hearing on his own gravel pit application Monday night, and was firmly escorted from the room by Selectman Philip K. Allen.

Police were being summoned to do the job, when Mr. Allen grasped Norman J. Scott of North Andover firmly by the arm and "walked" him speedily from the room.

About 25 residents of the area near the proposed pit, on North Main st. near the Lawrence line, had only begun to present their arguments against the operation when the contractor began to berate them.

Ignoring orders from Eugene A. Bernardin Jr., chairman of the Board of Selectmen, to quiet down, Scott persisted in accusing the neighbors of not wanting him to do anything in the pit anyway. With much arm waving and considerable shouting, he stood nearly surrounded by surprised residents.

Selectman Allen and Town Manager Thomas E. Duff attempted to quiet the angry man outside on the stairway, while the meeting broke up into small groups of residents, who then recited their complaints to individual selectmen.

Had Been Closed

The gravel pit, on land owned by Samuel Nassar at the rear of Scanlon's restaurant, had once been closed down after an emergency session of the Board of Selectmen. At that time, specific requirements were set forth for Mr. Scott. After their completion, it was understood that he could apply for a permit to proceed with the removal of materials for sale.

However, at the beginning of the hearing Monday night, there was absolute disagreement between Scott and members of the Board as to how much work had been done.

Scott said he had two men working there with heavy equipment for two weeks, attempting to grade the area as required.

Appeal To ABC Over Liquor License Decision

The Alcoholic Beverages Commission has asked the Selectmen to provide all available data on the application for a transfer of Deady's, Inc. package store from Boston rd. to Park st.

The request came after Atty. Charles Statuti filed an appeal with the ABC against the Selectmen's denial of the request.

A second appeal was filed with the ABC by Atty. Vincent Manzi, for Mr. and Mrs. John Troionello, in an attempt to have the Selectmen's decision against allowing transfer of stock in Deady's overruled.

The package store in question may sell beers and wines, only.

A recent request by Deady's, for the transfer of location, was denied by the Selectmen on the grounds that there were enough package stores in the center of town. Counsel for Deady's had asked the Selectmen, if they did not allow the transfer, to act negatively on the transfer of stock in the firm. If the approval had been granted on both requests, the result would have been the operation of a limited package store at Johnny's Supermarket on Park st.

Atty. Richard Gordon appeared as counsel for opponents of the transfer, basing the opposition on the amount of competition that would result if the transfer was allowed.

It is assumed that the ABC, after studying data from the hearing held here, will schedule a Boston hearing at which all persons interested in the transfer may be heard.

Red Cross Wants Residents To Deliver Blood Supplies

Andover residents who drive to Boston daily can render a service to the Red Cross, by volunteering to transport packages of blood from Boston to Andover.

The local Chapter has asked any resident, working in Boston, to register with the Chapter. Occasionally, a resident will be called to drive past the Massachusetts Regional Blood Center on Dartmouth st., Boston, to pick up a package and deliver it here.

Changes in the transportation system have resulted in the need for volunteers. It has been explained that curtailment of many trains and the elimination of baggage cars, result in serious problems in obtaining prompt shipment of blood from Boston to the local hospitals.

Local residents can be of assistance by calling the Red Cross headquarters on Punchard ave. and registering their names, Boston address and telephone number and other vital data.

Motel Plans Await Decision

An Appeals Board decision on a 51-unit motel in West Andover can be expected within a month, following presentation of plans to the Board at a hearing July 9. The unit will be built by John Philip Enterprises near the interchange at Route 93 on Lowell st., on the site of the old Carson farm.

Before a decision can be reached, the Appeals Board noted, formal statements that the plans meet the requirements of public safety officials must be filed.

There was no opposition to the plans presented.

To be known as the Rolling Green Motor Inn, the motel will contain 51 sleeping units and will have banquet halls, a dining room, lounge and function rooms.

NO ONE INJURED — This huge branch of an elm tree fell atop an Eastern Mass. bus near Kensington st., on North Main st., early Monday morning. Only the driver occupied the bus at the time and police said there were no injuries. Traffic was temporarily blocked, with traffic re-routed along William st. and down Poor st. to the square. Men from the tree crew cleared away the debris so traffic could flow smoothly at the morning rush hour, leaving the clean-up work for state crews.

BERATED RESIDENTS OVER PIT STAND

But several of the Selectmen, and Town Manager Duff, expressed the opinion that insufficient work had been done.

"It was hazardous when I inspected it," declared the town manager, "and it is just as hazardous today". Scott said he had been told by the men working at the pit that "someone said it was all right", so he did no more.

But none of the Selectmen or Mr. Duff knew of any inspection at which such a conversation was held.

The Selectmen insisted, Monday night, that they wouldn't be satisfied with the pit until all the work was done — including grading slopes and removing at least one tree that presently teeters at an odd angle on one bank.

Scott finally agreed that he would have a piece of grading equipment go into the pit and do the job properly.

Residents Object

But when Chairman Bernardin asked the roomful of men and women whether anyone wanted to speak on the subject, practically every hand went up.

First to take the floor was Michael A. Hurlihy, 5 Walker ave.

"He's anything but sincere", he warned the Board, and urged that nothing be done to further aggravate the situation. He complained that the pit is dangerous, that it devalues neighboring property and that, contrary to Mr. Scott's remarks, there had been no work done there in the past two weeks.

Mr. Hurlihy was still talking when Scott burst out in a tirade. Despite a warning from Mr. Bernardin that he would close the hearing unless quiet was restored, Scott continued to argue with Mr. Hurlihy, and then began berating the residents generally for their attitude towards him and the gravel pit.

Later in the evening, Selectman Allen moved that no action be taken on the request for a gravel pit permit until such time as all requirements for improving the present conditions have been met. At such time, the Board agreed, a further application may be considered, with another hearing.

Local Boy Is TV Choice

NEW TV STAR — Pete Bradford, center, has been chosen to appear in a filmed TV series on science, being produced by Boston's educational channel for national distribution. Pete, and Brian Foley of Newton, will appear with WGBH-TV's "Miss Ruth Anne" in the series. Here, they inspect a model furnace.

If you have ever made plans to receive 10-20 guests and had 494 turn up, you have some idea of what befell Channel 2's Ruth Anne Flaherty when she announced auditions for a 10-13 year-old boy to star in a TV science series.

She has her boy now, "Pete" Bradford, a freckle-faced redhead from Andover. In fact, she has two. The other is Brian Foley of Newton.

How this came about is easy to relate, but the staff of Boston's educational WGBH-TV is still hard put to explain why.

Appropriately enough, the day set for the interviews to select "an imaginative boy actor" for the "Meet Mr. Heat" programs was the hottest day of the month. Although auditions were announced for 11 a.m. at the station, the line had begun to form at 9.

Two hours later, three studios, hallways, stairways and a reception room were jammed with candidates, and parents, brothers, sisters, and pets of candidates.

When the supply of chairs was exhausted, two young men chivalrously gave up their seats to two girls who were determined to compete for the part even though the script called for a boy.

Casual conversations with parents in the crowd revealed an amazing amount of patience. The number of contestants had not, apparently, discouraged anyone. Each parent seemed to feel that his or her offspring had the qualifications and would win out, with perseverance — and without lunch.

By the end of the afternoon, 18 finalists had been invited to return the next day. Of these, the judges were so impressed by the performances of Messrs. Bradford and Foley, it was decided that some of the scripts would be rewritten so that both boys could be included.

The two will appear with "Miss Ruth Anne", who has conducted a daily live TV series on Channel 2 during the past season, in a series of filmed programs dealing with science and aimed at the 7-13 year old audience. When completed, they will be WGBH-TV's part of a new venture in children's programming to be distributed across the nation by the National Educational TV and Radio Center on the NET network.

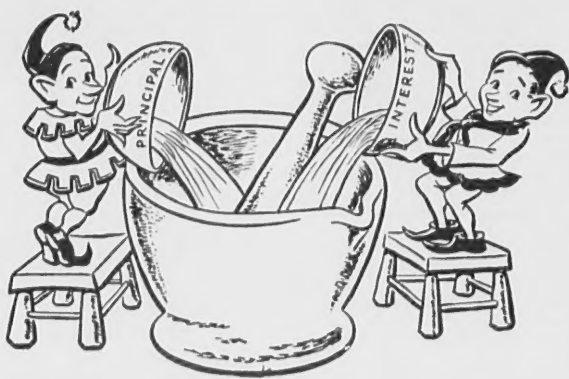

Although auditions took place on the last day of June, WGBH-TV is still receiving letters and phone calls from parents and relatives who wonder if a final decision could be postponed until "Johnny" returns from camp so that he may be considered.

Pete, age 12, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Bradford Jr., 281 South Main st. He is a seventh

Saw Demonstration Of Camp Activities

Parent's Day marked the end of the first two-week period at the Lawrence YWCA Day Camp at Captain's Pond. Parents and friends of the Camp enjoyed the various activities July 10, which the girls had prepared during the two weeks.

The day started with a water ballet originated by the older girls of the Camp. This was followed by a demonstration of boat safety under the direction of Mrs. Wilde and Mrs. Christopher of Andover. The parents then watched the fun-swim using the "buddy" system.

A delightful play "Cinderella" was presented by the Crafts Group, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Hatton, with puppets made by the campers.

Next the Camp Fire Group demonstrated how to build a fire and the correct use of jack knives. The campers had built their own buddy burners and showed their use while cooking.

The Sports Group, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Berman, the physical education director at the YWCA, demonstrated a circle game. The Indian Lore Group gave an Indian dance dressed in Indian masks which they had made themselves. In a special ceremony, Miss Evelyn Stulz, the director of the Lawrence YWCA, was given an Indian name and presented with hand-made Indian gifts from the Group.

The day closed with a Candle-Lighting Service, during which awards were given to Miss Sandra Taylor of Andover for outstanding crafts, and Miss Inna Kuntzman of Andover for work in nature.

Among the Campers at the Lawrence YWCA Day Camp were the following girls from Andover: Deborah Brown, Jane Valentine, Jane Hamilton, Sandra Taylor, Inna Kuntzman and Linda Bourdelais. Those attending the next camp period are Glenda Norton and Betty Ann McMillan.

There are still a few openings for the next two, two-week periods. Information about the Camp can be obtained by calling the Lawrence YWCA.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Competition Always Helps

It was gratifying to hear the Selectmen agree last week that several engineering firms be asked to estimate the cost of a drainage survey, before specific action is taken in the award of a contract.

Camp, Dresser and McKee, the present consulting engineers, has performed valuable work for the town — a point which the Selectmen carefully noted.

Thus the action was not taken as a result of dissatisfaction — or even with a feeling that the town could hire a better firm.

Rather, the point seemed to be one that makes sense: it's better to have some competition occasionally, so that no single firm will harbor even the slightest idea that it has the town's business exclusively.

It may well be that, after estimates on the drainage survey are received, Camp, Dresser and McKee will receive the contract at the estimate of $25,000. After all, the firm now knows the community well and would not have to take the initial steps of finding out where the streets are and other fundamentals.

It also may be true that the cost to the town can be reduced some by having competitive estimates — for most firms will sharpen their pencils more when there is competition than when there is none.

Need Clear Understanding

The gravel pit situation in most communities, like that in Andover, grows more serious all the time.

Unfortunately it is not eased when residents and operators fail to peacefully discuss the operation so that mutual understanding can prevail. Problems of control are only accentuated by misunderstandings that occur between the person operating a pit and the nearby residents.

When a pit is allowed in areas surrounded by houses, there should be a clear description of all restrictions placed on the pit, so that residents and the operator, alike, will know exactly what may be expected. Then there should be frequent inspections, to assure compliance.

By doing this, it may be possible to keep bad feeling at a minimum — and this would certainly be to everyone's advantage. For the town officials charged with this responsibility have difficulty enough in controlling the gravel pits without having to sift through emotion-laden arguments from both sides of a controversy.

If all the cards are laid on the table at the start, and kept there throughout the life of the pit, there should be little chance for strong emotions to enter future discussions. It would be, rather, a question of whether the operator is doing what the restrictions say he must; and, for the residents, it would provide an opportunity to judge the operation fairly.

Respond To Blood Appeal

We hope there is immediate response to the Red Cross' appeal for voluntary transportation of blood from Boston to the local Chapter.

Many townspeople drive into Boston daily — and there should be no problem in obtaining a list of volunteers, who will be willing to occasionally drive past the Blood Center and pick up a package containing needed blood.

We urge your cooperation, so that there never need be any delay in transporting this vital substance to local hospitals.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — July, 1909

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Phillips have gone to Pine Point, Me., on vacation.

Considerable excitement was caused in the Square last night, when one of the shafts on a Park Street Stable's depot carriage, driven by James Green, broke in front of Crowley's Drug Store. The broken end of the shaft gouged the horse in the side and she commenced to kick, breaking the other shaft. The carriage was finally backed against a tree in front of Swift's residence. A lady passenger got out, with only a slight shaking up.

Foster Barnard, 12, was the hero of a rescue at the Isle of Shoals last week. He saved a woman from drowning in a pool, after she had been under water twice.

The men employed on tree work by Tree Warden Playden have been given a month's vacation.

The fire department will hold its monthly practice next Wednesday evening.

25 Years Ago — July, 1934

Many of the state's leading musical corps will take part in the Legion-sponsored bugle and drum corps competition here Aug. 5.

The state primaries will be held Sept. 20, causing the Board of Registrars to meet each Friday night to certify names on nomination papers circulated here. August 10, is the last date for filing the papers. Registrations will be accepted from new voters until Aug. 29.

Two Methuen youths were arrested in Shawsheen Village by Officer Arthur Jowett Sunday morning and appeared in District Court Monday on charges of larceny of a truck and several other charges. They pleaded not guilty and the cases were continued for a week.

Story hour, 11:05 a.m.

Summer Hours

Summer hours at the library: Children's room open Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and 2-5 p.m. Adult room open Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Both rooms are closed on Saturdays.

Story Hour

Boys and girls who attend the Tuesday morning story hours have had a variety of story subjects as the basis of the programs. There have been "Two-legged Stories", "Stories Of Long Ago", and now all are anticipating the program for this Tuesday, July 21, the "Guessing Stories." In addition to the individual program subjects, Miss Lane has been telling chapters of the much loved story "The Princess And The Goblin" each time.

Bookworm Storytellers

This year there has been a new program for boys and girls who are in the age group of 10 through 14. Each Tuesday morning a group of those interested in the art of storytelling learn the quirks and tricks of selection of good material, points to bring out in the story, making the story alive and exciting and holding the attention of the audience. Children who enrolled in this group are Robert Boulanger, David Curry, Eileen Campbell, Susan Bayliss, Judy Freedman, Laurie Frishman, Mary Lou Carr and Karen Horton. At the opening meeting Miss Lane laid the groundwork of good story telling, and allowed each child to select a folk tale or picture book as a story on which to work during the week.

Puppet Making Class

"Peter Pan" is the story selected by the puppet making class as the theme of their work this summer at the library. Parts have been assigned, and puppets are being created to use in the puppet play to be given this fall to other boys and girls. The following young people have been members of the class: Eileen Campbell, Elizabeth O'Leary, Mark Patterson, Jeffrey Bieger, Alan Thompson, Susan Bayliss, Maureen Hurley and Marcia Anderson. Full details of the play will be published in the fall.

Recent Additions

Among the books recently added at the library are the following fiction titles: Adams Of The Bounty, Wilson — thrilling account of the Bounty mutiny; As The Tree Falls, Leslie — this book, a gift to the library, tells of Philip Pugh, page to Jane Seymour and the three successive wives of Henry VIII; Love And Money, Glad-America as it was seen through the eyes of Max Armand, sent here to study banking, but who chose to make this his home; Land Of Foam, Yefremov — a fine story of Pandion, young Greek sculptor, who set out to see the art of Crete, and wandered far into other lands; California Street, Busch — a success story of a young man who arrived in San Francisco with nothing, and accumulated great wealth, but who failed to make his place socially; The Pagan King, Marshall — story version of King Arthur, well told and unusual; Murder In New Guinea, Vandercook, a mystery. In the non-fiction area, the following are worth an evening's time; This Is The Desert, Ault — the desert covers one sixth of the United States, and remains a challenge to man's ingenuity; this is a beautiful book that tells the story of our vast wastelands, long years before the Death Valley days, when there was ancient forest growth and progress to now; Autobiography, Darwin — Charles Darwin's family thought they were protecting his posthumous reputation by deleting many of his comments in his autobiography; now his granddaughter, Nora Barlow, has restored the passages in this first unexpurgated edition; Rum Row, Carse — the lawless days of Prohibition and the modern pirates, the bootleggers, some of whom were real sailors, while others risked the lives of their crews for the enormous profits of rum running; Fidel Castro, DuBois — the Latin America correspondent of the Chicago Tribune has made a study of the bitter six year civil war to write this life of Castro; The Elder Statesman, Eliot — a play by T. S. Eliot, writer of the well-known drama "The Cocktail Party."

Hold Bike Burglar For Grand Jury

A Beverly bicycle burglar was bound over to the Essex county grand jury by Judge John J. Darcy in Lawrence District court Saturday morning, July 11, after he entered pleas of guilty to charges of breaking and entering in the daytime, larceny and assault and battery. He was ordered to post bonds of $1500 for his release.

Wendell L. Bowen, 34, 25 Pond st., Beverly, told police a strange story of having borrowed his niece's bicycle last Friday morning and going on a tour which took him into Lynnfield, Reading and over Route 125 in Andover, where he suffered a lapse of memory.

He is alleged to have broken into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward King, 25 Gray st., by breaking a window. He was surprised in the home of the couple, who were on vacation, by Mr. and Mrs. James Lynch, relatives of the Kings, who heard the sound of breaking glass from their nearby home.

The couple walked to the King residence and observed a blue bicycle in a clump of bushes near the home. They then noticed the broken window and upon peering into the house saw Bowen. Mr. Lynch shouted "Hey," and Bowen ran from a front door and into the woods.

When Mr. Lynch, father of police Sergeant James R. Lynch of Andover, gave chase, Bowen circled about and ran for the bicycle. Mrs. Lynch warned him away and when he insisted on taking the bike she grabbed at his shirt. He struck her on the arm, the court was told, and succeeded in getting away.

Leaving the scene, he pedaled toward North Andover and entered a swamp where he hid for a time before emerging onto the road, where Police Chief Joseph W. Lawlor of North Andover was taking part in the search. He surrendered to the police chief.

Sergeant Inspector Robert V. Deyermund of the Andover police who questioned Bowen, told the court the defendant said he snapped out of his mental lapse when Mr. Lynch startled him while he was searching the King residence. He could give no reason for his actions.

He was charged with having taken $2.03 from a change jar in the King residence and with assault and battery on Mrs. Lynch. Because of a previous record, Judge Darcy announced that he felt he must hold him for the grand jury.

HYER-HIDE

Self Priming

WHITE

with BUSAN® 11

- MOLD RESISTANT
- BLISTER RESISTANT
- PEEL RESISTANT
- WHITER
- WHITE RETENTION

HYER-HIDE White . . . containing Busan 11, eliminates the need for frequent painting by controlling cracking, flaking, blistering and peeling. Wherever and whenever painted with HYER-HIDE, the surface of your house remains beautifully clean, with minimum chalking, due to the control of mold, which is the principle cause of dingy, dirty appearance.

No home can remain new but when painted with HYER-HIDE it will surely "grow old gracefully".

HYER-HIDE

HYER-HIDE Home Paint has long been a truly "Deluxe" Outside White Paint. It is a DOUBLE HIDE WHITE, producing highest quality results with ONE COAT. Has extreme hiding, is the "whitest" of whites and retains this whiteness for years to come. HYER-HIDE is recognized by all as the finest of exterior house paints.

NOW! HYER-HIDE CONTAINS BUSAN 11 . . . Busan 11 is a new, unique preservative pigment for paint. The granting of U. S. Patent No. 2,818,344 under which paints containing Busan 11 are manufactured shows that the U. S. Patent Office regarded such paints as new and patently different from other paints. HYER-HIDE is self priming, used both as prime and finish coat.

HYER-HIDE IS BLISTER AND PEEL RESISTANT . . . a characteristic of paint films is loss of adhesion which appears as cracking, flaking and peeling. In addition, the swelling and shrinking of paint films, plus embrittlement causes the paint to peel away from the wood, appearing initially as cracks or blisters. Such cracks and blisters increase in size and paint film eventually peels.

HYER-HIDE — using Busan 11, the preservative pigment, has a high degree of resistance to cracking, flaking and blistering on new wood and on old surfaces properly prepared for painting.

CONTROLS MOLD (mildew) . . . no more dingy, dirty looking jobs (sometimes only a few months after painting) . . . WHY? . . . It's simple . . . mold conditions result from mold or mildew, rarely to dirt alone. Mold is a profuse growth . . . thousands of spore clusters to each square inch, this mold feed on and destroys the paint, its finger-like projections penetrate the surface, eating away the protective coating of your home.

In an attempt to control this situation conventional paints are formulated to higher chalking or self-cleaning characteristics. Such excess chalking allows the disintegrated paint to wash down over the brick and other masonry surfaces, causing an unsightly "chalk wash". HYER-HIDE . . . containing Busan 11, the preservative pigment, is resistant to mold — this eliminates the necessity for high chalking, keeping the surface bright and clean with a bare minimum of "chalk wash".

Born in Dundee, Scotland, he made his home in Andover for many years before moving to Lawrence and was employed as an elevator operator in the former Snaawsheen mills of the American Woolen Co.

Surviving are two brothers, Peter and John Campbell both of Andover; a sister, Mrs. Martha Dowd of Connecticut, also several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held Tuesday from the Lundgren Funeral Home with services at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Ernest H. MacDonald, rector of St. Augustine's Episcopal Church of Lawrence. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

DR. ALLAN V. HEELY

Dr. Allan V. Heely, headmaster at Lawrenceville, N.J., Academy, for the past 25 years, died at his campus residence July 9 of an embolism. He was 62 years old.

The deceased was an English instructor at Phillips Academy, from 1924 to 1934, becoming assistant dean in his last year at the school. He became headmaster at Lawrenceville in 1934.

Dr. Heely, who was born February 2, 1897, in Brooklyn, N.Y., graduated from Phillips Academy, and Yale University and attended at Oxford University. He received a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University. His honorary degrees were Doctor of Laws, Lafayette College; Doctor of Letters, Princeton University; and Doctor of Literary Humanities, Rollins College.

Dr. Heely was a trustee of the Darrow School, St. Mary's Hall and the Harvey School. He was a past president of the Head Masters Association, chairman of the Board of trustees of the Educational Records Bureau and a director of the Interscholastic Foundation.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Frances (Thompson) Heely, a former Andover girl, and a brother, Laurence S. Heely of Plainfield, N.J.

RICHARD VAN VALKENBURG

The funeral of Richard Van Valkenburg, 27, 215 Lowell St., who drowned July 9 while swimming in Union Lake, Barrington, N. H., was held Monday, with services at 2 p.m. at the Lundgren Funeral Home. The Rev. Frederick B. Noss, minister of South Congregational Church officiated. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

New Hampshire State Troopers from Concord said the victim was visiting friends at the summer resort July 9 and had taken a boat all alone to go swimming. He reportedly was diving from the boat when he was stricken in the water and disappeared from sight.

Van Valkenburg was born in Holyoke, Oct. 31, 1931, but resided in both Lawrence and Andover since childhood. He formerly made his home on Oak St., Lawrence.

He attended Andover schools until transferring to Lawrence High School where he was graduated with the class of 1949. He entered the U. S. Air Force upon graduation and spent the majority of his four-year enlistment at Hule Air Force Base, Greenland.

The deceased was employed as an apprentice shoe designer by the K & L Shoe Co. and attended the Berkeley School of Music in Boston. He had previously studied at the Vesper George Art School, Boston.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Rose Van Valkenburg formerly of Lawrence and now of Silver Springs, Md.; a sister, Corrairie, wife of William Macenzie, with whom he made his home; his grandmother, Mrs. Olivia Giroux of Holyoke, and also a niece.

MAROCCO - DERBY

White gladioli decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church in Lawrence July 11 for the marriage of Miss Christine Elizabeth Derby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Howard Derby, 144 Saratoga St., Lawrence, and Laurence John Marocco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Girolamo V. Marocco, 23 Corbett St. The Rev. Ernest J. Autch, O.S.A. performed the ceremony and celebrated the 11 o'clock nuptial Mass.

Joseph M. Walsh, church organist, played the wedding music and sang during the Mass.

Miss Marcia A. Scully of Lowell was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary E. Greene, Miss Ann M. Robishaw and Miss Elaine M. Thornton. Laura Lynn Derby of Hapboro, Pa., Patricia Derby of Hyannis, nieces of the bride, were the flower girls.

John R. Marocco of North Andover was best man and the ushers were James H. Derby, Arthur J. Hamel and Maurice P. Shea 3d.

The bride, who entered the church with her father, wore a gown that combined a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace designed with a portrait neckline and short sleeves with a full skirt of silk organza with a front pouf that revealed a panel of Chantilly lace, and a cathedral train. Her fingertip tiered veil of silk illusion was held in place with a regal coronet of pearl trimmed Chantilly lace. She carried a prayer book topped with white orchids, Stephanotis and camellias.

Her attendants wore similar gowns of pale blue lace with taffeta overskirts and accessories in harmony. The honor attendant carried a crescent cascade of white sweetheart roses and deep blue delphinium framed in blue velvet leaves and the bridesmaids carried similar bouquets with pale blue delphinium and white velvet leaves.

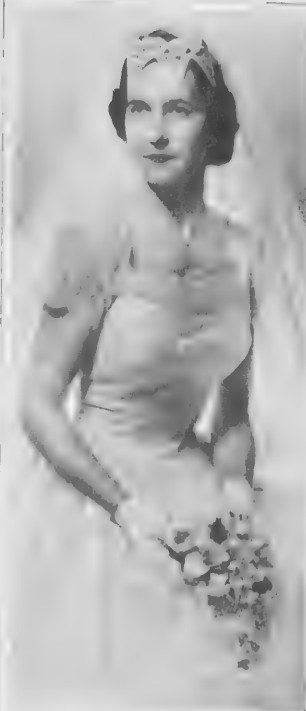

The flower girls wore short frocks of pink embroidered white over pink with empire coronets and they carried colonial bouquets.

Mr. and Mrs. Marocco received their guests at a reception at the Andover Country Club. Mrs. Caroline Karel was in charge of the guest book. Relatives and friends attended from Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Springfield, Bedford, Somerville and Boston.

After a trip through Maine, New York and Canada the couple will reside in Lawrence.

The bride is a graduate of Lowell State Teachers College and is a teacher in the Andover school system. Mr. Marocco is a graduate of Merrimack College and Lowell Technological Institute. He is associated with the Western Electric Co.

GENS - BERRY

Of local interest was the marriage June 20 in St. Jude's Catholic Church, St. Petersburg, Fla., of Miss Joyce Charlene Berry of St. Petersburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton L. Berry of Huntington, West Va., and William Paul Gens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Gens of St. Petersburg, formerly of Andover. Rt. Rev. James J. Meehan officiated.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli decorated the church. Miss Kathryn Eggleston played the nuptial music and the soloist was Miss Helen Ateek.

Miss Charlene McCallister was maid of honor for the bride and her bridesmaids were Miss Joan Powers and Miss Sandy Mountcastle. Debbie and Linda Flynn, twin sisters, were flower girls.

Harold F. Gens Jr. was best man for his brother and the ushers were Dolph Hellman, William Baker and John Wescott.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white hand clipped Chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned with a scalloped square neckline and short sleeves in a fitted bodice. The tiered lace bouffant skirt fell over hoops into a chapel train. A small bridal hat of pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of imported illusion and she carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid, white shattered carnations and pink sweetheart rosebuds.

Her honor attendant wore a waltz length gown of ice blue Swiss Nylon designed with a fitted bodice, large short puffed sleeves and a full skirt. Her Mary Queen of Scots half hat was of matching nylon and she carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bridesmaids wore similar costumes in a deeper shade of blue and they wore matching hats and carried arm bouquets of pink and white carnations.

The flower girls wore short frocks of white nylon trimmed with rows of lace and satin trimmed Peter Pan collars. They carried baskets of pink and white rose petals.

A reception was held at the Doctor's Motel and among the many out-of-town guests were Mrs. Thomas Sutton and Mrs. Perez Lewin of Andover. The couple left for Miami Beach after the reception.

NEW CONSTRUCTION — The giant earth mover, with an assist from the 'dozer, is scooping up earth along the route of a temporary road at the By-Pass. When completed, cars will use the road where the machines are working, while workmen construct permanent roads nearby. The tremendous machine scoops up over 20 yards of earth and deposits it where the operator desires. (Staff Photo)

Bob Wiss Wins Turner Competition

Robert T. Wiss of Shawsheen rd., a member of the Andover High School gym team in 1955 and '56, recently won second place in the middle class of the National Turner's competition in Louisville, Ky.

He competed against 200 of the top athletes of the country, and by his score, won an over-all second place.

Wiss had won first place in the New England Turner's competition at Clinton.

The events in the national competition included track and field, as well as gymnastics. In the former events, he was eighth — including the 100-yard dash, hop, skip and jump, shot put and running high jump. He was second in the special mile race, and his team took fourth place in the relays.

In the apparatus gymnastic division, Wiss took third place; and in the decathlon, a combination of all events, he was second.

The final scoring put him in second place in the middle class — and this win will automatically enter him in the top competing group next year.

Wiss is enrolled at Springfield College and will be eligible for competition next fall. He had formerly spent a year at Lowell Technological Institute.

According to Donald D. Dunn, who revealed the young man's athletic feat, Wiss should be an outstanding competitor in the rings and parallel bars at Springfield.

Pet Cat "Bobby" Won Gold Ribbon

Despite hot weather last Friday, hopeful contestants took their pets to the West Center playground for the annual pet show.

Animals and other pets were entered by James Ganley, Elinor McCarthy, Joseph Santarasci, Michael Rodden, Robert Bedard, Mary Lyman, William Battles, Douglas DiPrima and Brian Conley.

The best groomed pet was entered by William Battles; second, Douglas DiPrima. Best mannered animal award went to the entry of Michael Rodden; second, Brian Ganley; third, Joseph Santarasci.

The most unusual pet — seven baby crayfish — won first prize for James Ganley. Elinor McCarthy won second prize with three honey bees. Robert Bedard came in third, entering a tri-colored ant.

A special white ribbon was presented for the oldest animal entered — Mary Lyman's Topsy. Both Mary and her pet are five.
